

RESERVOIR PLAN
ROILS A COUNTYVilas Summer Homes, Farms and Timber Threatened By Mining Co.'s Project

Eagle River, Wis., Oct. 2.—Examinations have been made, preliminary to surveys, for the establishment in Vilas county of one of the largest reserve water reservoirs in the United States. The project is the conception of mining companies owning property on the Ontonagon river in Michigan, and the intent is to establish a water basin that will cover thirty square miles. It will make a vast lake of the entire Cisco lake region of that part of Vilas county southwest of Watersmeet, Mich.

The middle branch of the Ontonagon river has its source in the group of lakes in Vilas county that include Cisco lake, Lake Lindsay, Lake Morley, Crooked lake, Lake Mamie and Thousand Island lake, and connecting streams. To the west, separated from this chain by a low portage a mile long, are Palmer lake and Tenderfoot lake, both large bodies of water. The reservoir project will immediately affect the greater chain, but the height of water it is proposed will, it is said, cause an overflow into Palmer lake and Tenderfoot and thus into the west branch of the Ontonagon, which has its source in Palmer lake. There is much low land adjacent to historic Tenderfoot that in turn would be overflowed, sending the water west to Presque Isle river and the hundreds of lakes adjacent to that stream. The full extent of the probable overflow is known only to the surveyors who have examined the country for the men who are back of the reservoir project, but settlers in the region and the owners of cabins, summer homes and resorts in the territory express the fear that if the plan is carried out what is now one of the most popular and picturesque resort districts in northern Wisconsin will be transformed into lake and swamp.

The Cisco lake district is the terminus of the Northwestern railway's northern Wisconsin summer train service. In this district W. E. Cory, the Pittsburgh steel magnate, has a beautiful summer home, where he and his wife, who formerly was Mabel Gilman, the actress, entertain scores of eastern friends during the fall fishing and shooting season. Marvin Huggitt, Jr., son of the former president of the Northwestern road, and freight traffic manager of the system, has a home on Thousand Island lake that stands in a tract of 4,000 acres of land circling the lake, and which cost him $60,000 for improvements alone. There are several summer homes of Chicago people on the lakes, and several Milwaukee men own cabins there. Tenderfoot resort numbers a score of handsome cabins, and the Bent resort, on Lake Mamie, will be partly inundated if the reservoir plan, as proposed, is carried out. Dr. Frankenthal, head of Michael Reese hospital in Chicago, and John Drake, the millionaire Chicago hotel man, also have valuable summer home property in the district.

One of the biggest sufferers from the proposed reservoir project would be the northern Wisconsin lumber companies—the Stange, Alexander and Cisco Lake companies—which own many thousands of acres of rich timber land adjacent to the lakes that would be overflowed if a dam with an eight-foot head was to be built where the middle branch of the Ontonagon makes its way out of Cisco lake.

Already men who own land and homes on the Cisco lake chain and adjacent lakes are planning an organization to oppose the granting of a charter by the Wisconsin legislature, which will be necessary before the reservoir project is carried out, and strenuous opposition will be made to the entire reservoir project. — Milwaukee Journal Staff Correspondent.

NEW LODGE HERE

Rhinelanders is to have a new fraternal order. W. F. Hummerichous, formerly the high deputy of the United Order of Foresters, is again in the city and states that he is now managing this part of the state for the Brotherhood of the American Yeoman. Mr. Hummerichous has two assistant deputies with him and will organize a Yeoman Homestead here in a few days with fifty charter members, consisting of the best citizens of Rhinelanders. The Yeoman is the largest order in the United States that admits men and women to membership. Mr. Hummerichous says there will be something doing at the first meeting in the new order.

RUSSELL SHOOT
IN JACKSONVILLEHeads 16 Crack Shots To Compete In National Tournament

Serg. Henry Russell of Company L, who heads the Wisconsin National Guard Rifle team, is now with the team in Jacksonville, Florida, to compete in the national matches of 1915 which will be held on the Florida rifle range at the state camp grounds near Jacksonville.

Preceding them and in the order named there will be held the annual matches of the Florida State Rifle association, Oct. 1 to 5; the Southern Rifle association, Oct. 6 and 7, and the National Rifle Association of America, Oct. 8 to 11.

The Milwaukee Free Press states that this national shooting tournament promises to be the most largely attended of any that has ever been held, surpassing even the matches of 1909, when fifty teams participated. Not only will every state and the regular service be represented, but the war department has this year opened the national matches to teams from universities and colleges and military schools and it is expected that many such institutions will be represented.

The purpose of this meet is to promote interest in shooting with the national military arms and to increase the efficiency of the military and naval services in small arms firing.

The team to represent Wisconsin was selected by competition open to all officers and enlisted men of the National guard of the state. This competition began during the regimental camps in July, when each regiment shot twice through the militia qualification course. The thirty-six high men were ordered into a special camp in August. This tryout consisted of shooting over the national match course five times a total of 325 shots. No competition was ever shot under harder conditions and never was there a closer contest of its kind in the state. The sixteen finally selected were Serg. Russell, Rhinelanders, Serg. Rossmann, Neilsville; Serg. Mueller and Middlestead, Marshfield; Serg. Grundeman, Appleton; Serg. Brown, Corporal Gorman and Musician Verne, Madison; Lieut. Gaartz and Serg. Shiel, Milwaukee; Serg. Luedtke, Ft. Atkinson; Maj. Schneller, Neenah; Lieut. Schwandt, Oshkosh; Serg. Gay, Portage, and Serg. Bailey and Corporal Lystadt, Hudson.

Since their selection these men have put in a lot of hard practice both at their home ranges and at Camp Douglas. They will report at the latter place this afternoon, practice tomorrow and leave for south Saturday. Due at Chattanooga on Sunday, they will stop over for one day and visit Chickamauga park, Lookout mountain and other historical points of interest in the vicinity, including the old camp ground of Maj. Williams, Maj. McCoy, Maj. Schneller, Lieut. Gaartz and Lieut. Schwandt, when they were members of the Second and Third Wisconsin volunteers during the Spanish-American war, seventeen years ago.

As the team is not scheduled to arrive at the rifle range until Oct. 5, they will not be able to participate in the Florida state matches and not being members of the Southern Rifle association, nothing but practice scores will be shot on Oct. 6 and 7.

Beginning with the Leech cup match on Oct. 8, however, until the president's match on Oct. 14, every match will have the Badger team striving for honors, and if past scores are a criterion, Capt. Huntzicker's team will be among the prize winners.

NO LICENSE FOR BOYS

The attorney general on Friday advised R. S. Scheibel of the state conservation commission that boys under 15 years of age who violate the game laws by hunting wild animals can not be fined or compelled to pay costs of any action brought against them, but may, if the court so decides, be sent to the state industrial school for boys at Waukesha. Under the new law boys under 15 years of age can not be licensed to hunt.

Advertising Sells Land
I know that advertising has and is bringing me results. Being in the land business, I can cite at least two instances where I disposed of land to buyers whose attention was first directed toward me through an ad in the New North. There may be other cases where advertising has helped me to make good deals. I heartily recommend newspaper advertising to anyone who is after the business.

CITY TAX LEVY FOR 1916
IS PLACED AT $97,765

At the October meeting of the city council Tuesday night a resolution was passed placing the annual tax levy for the city for the year beginning January 1, 1916 at $97,765. From this amount is deducted the estimated receipts, $20,000, leaving a total levy of $77,765. The tax levy for the year 1915 was $103,000. The 1916 levy is itemized as follows:

Salaries	$65,000.00
Streets & sidewalks	6,000.00
Fire Dept.	6,215.00
Police Dept.	2,550.00
Water Works	6,500.00
Elections	500.00
Health Dept.	1,000.00
Street lights	575.00
Printing	500.00
Cemetery	600.00
Parks	100.00
Rents	240.00
Bonds	15,000.00
Interest	6,500.00
Stationary	75.00
Schools	28,500.00
Library	1,800.00
Bridges	500.00
Miscellaneous	6,000.00
Liability Ins.	850.00
Sewer extension	500.00
Water extension	1,000.00
Fire hose	500.00
Total	$97,765.00
Estimated receipts	20,000.00
Total levy	$77,765.00

In the report of George Jewell, city comptroller, which was submitted to the council the expenditures of the city from January 1 to October 1, 1915 reached $103,403.45. The estimated expenditures from October 1 to December 31 are $11,810, making the total for the year, $121,213.45.

Chief J. D. Cole, of the fire department, in his yearly report to the council stated that the department responded to 83 calls and 27 frame buildings were damaged by fire.

The board of public works reported entering into a new contract with the Audit and Bond company of America to continue the work of auditing the city books for the sum of $1,500. Already the city has paid the company $2200 for services and the new contract will result in terminating all old contracts. The report of the board was accepted by the council. It is anticipated that the Audit and Bond company will complete their work in time to make a final report at the November meeting of the council.

The council passed a resolution to install three police signal lights in convenient parts of the city to be operated from the telephone exchange. These lights will be placed at the corners of Brown and Davenport streets, Rives and Anderson streets, Phillip and Thayer streets. An electric light was ordered installed at the corner of Eastern Ave. and Lakeshore Drive.

Action on the usual monthly batch of bills was taken by the council.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Moore, old and prominent residents of Rhinelanders, observed the silver anniversary of their wedding Friday at their home at 10 South Oneida Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Moore entertained a small company of relatives and friends in honor of the event. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Lewis, Antigo; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bentley, Baraboo; Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Lewis, Mt. Morris; Mr. and Mrs. Morris McRae, Mt. Morris; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kimber, Mrs. S. H. Alban and Miss Helen Alban, city.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore were married in Portage twenty-five years ago and for over twenty-five years have been residents of this city. Their host of friends join in extending congratulations and wishing them many more years of happy wedded life.

EAGLE CARRIES OFF PETS

While a four months old hound pup and a kitten, owned by August Schlichting, were sporting themselves on the rear porch of Mr. Schlichting's farm house, near Malvern Saturday, a large bald headed eagle swooped down upon the playful pair and snatching them in its powerful talons rapidly sailed away. Mr. Schlichting upon seeing his pets being carried off, rushed into the house for his rifle, but in the short interval the big bird and its quarry had nearly vanished from sight. For several months poultry on the

DANCING PARTIES
AT HIGH SCHOOL

Dancing parties will be in vogue at the high school this year, the city school board having unofficially given permission to hold such affairs in the high school gymnasium. These parties will be held only on Friday and Saturday evenings and will be strictly under control of the teaching force. There appears to be a desire on the part of the school board and teachers to give the scholars this form of recreation, which they apparently demand, under proper chaperonage. Should any unpleasant conditions arise as a result of these functions they will be immediately discontinued. The first party will take place Saturday evening following the Antigo-Rhinelanders football game.

Superintendent Colburn cordially invites parents of students to attend any or all of these parties. Their presence will be thoroughly welcomed.

Whaples quickly enlisted a posse of fifty men, divided them into sections, and loaded the vigilants into automobiles. They followed the road which the kidnapers' machine took.

"At 11 o'clock the posses were still out. Whaples supplied the members of the posse with rifles and told them to shoot at the first sight of the automobile."

"Graziano is quite wealthy, it was reported. His property is valued at $100,000. Until February he was a successful contractor in Chicago."

"He told friends in Harvard that he had made sufficient money to retire. He purchased the farm at Harvard and used it as a truck farm. He has taken well with the people of Harvard."

"From what Graziano told the citizens of Harvard before he left with one of the posses in search of his daughter, the men who did the kidnapping were from Chicago."

"They took her for ransom," Graziano said. "It's some fellows that have a grudge against me. They wanted money. I'll get a letter in a few days asking me for money."

KIDNAPPERS TAKE
GRAZIANO GIRLDaughter Of Rich Illinois Italian, Known Here, Is Held
For Ransom

Marguerite Graziano, 13 years old daughter of Vito Graziano, was kidnapped from her home in Harvard, Ill., last Thursday. Vito Graziano, the father, was in Rhinelanders about two months ago and announced that he intended to purchase land near Woodboro and establish an Italian colony there. While here Graziano met many people who will read with interest the following account of the kidnapping from the Chicago Tribune:

"Marguerite Graziano, the 13-year-old daughter of Vito Graziano, was kidnapped from her father's residence, a mile from Harvard, Ill., at 6 o'clock Thursday."

"Her father, who is wealthy, believes she was taken by other Italians and is being held for ransom. Posses sent throughout the country, and all roads leading to Chicago were watched by detectives."

"The kidnapping was a bold one and had all the trimmings of the 'Tracy and the Bandit' series of yellow hacks. It recalls the kidnapping of Edward Cuddey twenty years ago by Pat Crowe, and the ransom demands made by his kidnapers."

"Four Italians in an automobile drew up at the farmhouse of Vito Graziano a farmer and sewer contractor, at 6 o'clock. Long repeating rifles protruded over the sides of the touring car."

"Two of the men alighted from the car and walked cautiously up to the front door of the Graziano residence. There was a knock. Marguerite answered the knock."

"She flung the door wide open, as is the fashion in countryside residences. One of the men leveled a rifle at her. Another seized her, threw a garment over her head so she couldn't scream, and raced back to the automobile, while his partner stood guard at the door."

"Mr. Graziano, his wife, and a hired man were eating dinner. They heard the first scream of the daughter, and the father rushed for his rifle. Before he could load the gun and return to pursue the captors of his daughter, the automobile was speeding down the road."

"Graziano raised his rifle and fired several shots, but apparently they took no effect. Then the contractor drove in his automobile to Harvard, where he told his story to citizens who were gathered on the streets."

He hurried also to the residence of Deputy Sheriff Frank Whaples and told the officer of the law.

"Whaples quickly enlisted a posse of fifty men, divided them into sections, and loaded the vigilants into automobiles. They followed the road which the kidnapers' machine took."

"At 11 o'clock the posses were still out. Whaples supplied the members of the posse with rifles and told them to shoot at the first sight of the automobile."

"Graziano is quite wealthy, it was reported. His property is valued at $100,000. Until February he was a successful contractor in Chicago."

"He told friends in Harvard that he had made sufficient money to retire. He purchased the farm at Harvard and used it as a truck farm. He has taken well with the people of Harvard."

OLD RESIDENTS
ANSWER SUMMONSJames G. Dunn, Mrs. Michael Didier and Eli Hayno Are Called By Death

JAMES G. DUNN

James G. Dunn, better known to his innumerable friends as Jerry Dunn, a resident of Rhinelanders for thirty-one years, passed away at an early hour Sunday morning at his home, 405 S. Pelham street. He had been ill since early last spring and at that time underwent a critical operation. During the summer Mr. Dunn showed signs of improvement, but later other complications developed and for several weeks past he had been confined to his bed. That the end was near was evident to his family and friends and everything was done to make his last days as comfortable and free from pain as possible.

James G. Dunn was born in Boston, Mass., February 22, 1842. When eleven years of age he moved with his parents to Wisconsin, settling in Briggsville, December 1, 1861. He was joined in marriage to Miss Margaret O'Hare. In 1878 Mr. and Mrs. Dunn moved to Portage, Wis., where they resided six years, coming to Rhinelanders in 1884. Shortly after his arrival here Mr. Dunn went into the dray business, which he conducted for many years; he was the first drayman here. Later he became local agent for the Standard Oil company which position he held until his retirement from active life some six years ago. He took deep interest in public affairs and long served on the Oneida county board, as supervisor from the sixth ward. He was a devoted member of the Catholic faith and was the first subscriber to the fund for the building of a church here thirty years ago.

Mr. Dunn was a good citizen and endowed with the sterling qualities which command respect from his fellow men. In business dealings he displayed sound judgment and was at all times fair. Genuine sorrow is manifested in his death. Besides his wife, five children survive, namely, Mrs. Ella Reed, Mrs. Manfred Taggart, William and George Dunn, all of this city, and Mrs. George Whitney of Colon, Panama.

The funeral services were held from St. Mary's church Wednesday morning and were largely attended, the Catholic Knights and Hibernians being present in a body. Michael O'Hare of Camden, N. D., was the only out of town relative here.

ELI HAYNO

Eli Hayno, who has been a resident of Rhinelanders and vicinity for the last twenty years, died Monday morning in St. Mary's hospital. He had been ill eight days and was stricken suddenly while in the Roepcke harness store on S. Stevens St., Sunday, September 26. It was realized from the first that his case was hopeless and owing to his advanced age failed rapidly.

Mr. Hayno was of French nationality and was 68 years of age. He came to this city from Michigan and for sixteen years was in the employ of C. H. Roepcke as a harness maker. He is said to have relatives but very little concerning them can be learned here. The body is at Nick's undertaking rooms and as yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

There is an unconfirmed rumor that deceased left his entire estate, said to be over $3000, to St. Mary's hospital.

MRS. MICHAEL DIDIER

Mrs. Michael Didier, one of Rhinelanders' early residents died Tuesday morning at the home of her son, John Didier, 305 Messer street.

Mrs. Didier was born in Luxembourg, Germany, December 6th, 1826 and was in her 89th year at the time of her death. In 1853 she came to America, locating in Eagle Harbor.

PROTECTION FROM THE FLIES

Covers for Glasses May Be Said to Be Almost Indispensable During the Hot Weather.

During the summer, or at any time when there are flies about, glasses or lugs containing milk, barley water, lemonade, etc., should always be protected by some light cover, preferably one that is washable. In the sick room especially are these needed.

The one shown in the illustration is just a square of soft muslin edged with a fringe of crochet cotton on which beads are threaded to weight it, or narrow all-head fringe may be used;

a six-inch square will answer for either a tumbler or a medium size jug.
To make it, cut out a piece of stiff cardboard measuring three and one-half inches each way, and on that side which is to be the top cover it with cream silk, and on the under side with oil silk. The two pieces of material are smoothly stretched across on either side of the card and sewn together at the edges, which are afterwards finished off with a fine silk cord, carried into three little loops at each corner; it is further ornamented with a fringe of lace which hangs downwards all round the glass.

For lifting the cover, an ornamental button is sewn in the center at the top. The object of the oil silk on the under side is, that it can be easily wiped if it is used on a tumbler containing a warm liquid, and also it will help to keep the heat from escaping.

Becoming Collars.

The wide collar of organdie is most becoming; it can be worn with almost any plain dress and adds distinction.

Made It Unanimous.

"Have you any militant suffragists in Crimson Gulch?" "Nary," replied Bro-co Bob. "When the school teacher dropped a hint as to how she'd like to vote we'd have been glad of a chance to shoot up anybody that 'ud interfere with her. But by common consent we turned the polls over to her an' all stayed away so's there wouldn't be any chance of her bein' embarrassed."—

The speaker was a Wisconsin mother to whom a community nurse was protesting against the mother's absolute refusal to keep her whooping child at home and away from healthy children. The attitude is by no means an uncommon one and so long as it is held by one mother in the state it seems to me most important that popular misconception concerning this disease be replaced, or at least counteracted, by reliable information.

FARMING

BETTER FARMING-BETTER BUSINESS-BETTER LIVING

(By W. A. Henry and F. B. Morrison, the University)

The whole world over, the most enlightened and progressive agricultural districts are found where live stock provides one of the chief sources of income. This is due to several reasons: The livestock farmer can not live from hand to mouth, but must providently lay in a store of feed for his animals throughout the winter months. This same care and foresight is then carried into his other activities. Under some systems of agriculture the returns from the year's crops all come in at once, which makes for extravagance and idleness, with resultant poverty until another crop is harvested. On the other hand, under most systems of live-stock farming, income is secured several times during the year.

The care and control of domestic animals, which are intelligent yet submissive to his will, tends to develop the best instincts in man and make him kindly, self-reliant, and trustworthy. The good stockman grows proud of his sleek, well-bred animals and derives a satisfaction therefrom not measured in money. With pride he may hand down to his sons his reputation as a breeder. He is also able to leave them fertile fields which he has built up rather than robbed a heritage, bequeathed by but few grain farmers.

In the early days, with land low in price, pasturage abundant, and feed and labor cheap, making a profit from live-stock farming was comparatively easy, even though one possessed little knowledge of the principles governing the feeding and care of stock. Conditions have now changed. The great western prairies no longer offer rich fields free for the taking, and hence throughout the country fertile land has advanced in price. No less marked has been the increase in the cost of labor and of feeding stuffs. But the price of live-stock products has also advanced, so that satisfactory profits may still be realized from farm animals. However, present conditions call for a more intelligent type of stock farming than has ruled in the past. Good profits are possible only when all the operations are planned intelligently and with good judgment, and there is a thorough appreciation of the requirements of the various classes of animals for food and care.

In the pioneer days of our country the feeds commonly used for live stock were restricted to the grains and forages grown on the farm. Knowledge of the value of these farm-grown products is not now sufficient for intelligent feeding. The problem is complicated by the host of by-products resulting from the manufacture of articles of human food which are offered on the markets as feeding stuffs for stock. Many of these are valuable and economical supplements to the feeds raised on the farm. However, such products vary considerably in price and even more markedly in nutritive value. Most economical feeding is therefore possible only when the relative value of these different products compared with each other and with the farm-grown crops is clearly understood.

MONTHLY W. C. T. U. MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Rhineland W. C. T. U. will be held as usual, the 2nd Wednesday of October the 13, at the Library Club room. Interesting reports of the State Convention at Eau Claire, will be given by the delegates. Appointments of vice-presidents and superintendents have been made by the executive board and will be announced at this meeting. As nearly every church in Rhineland is represented in the Union there is a lengthy list of vice presidents. All members and friends of the temperance cause are urged to attend.

VULCANIZING AND REPAIRING

2 THAYER STREET

In seeking a knowledge of feeds and of feeding we must first consider the plant substances which provide the nourishment for farm animals and study the manner in which these (Agricultural Experiment Station of Wisconsin) compounds are built up in the living plant. Next we should learn how the food consumed by animals is digested and utilized within the body for the production of meat, milk, work, or wool, and should also study the requirements of each class of animals for food, water, shelter, and exercise. Only then are we in some measure in a position to understand the value and merits for each of the farm animals of the many different feeds and finally to consider the principles of care and management, the constant observance of which is essential to the highest success in animal husbandry.

War on second growth weeds is more necessary in Wisconsin this fall than in any recent season.

The excess of rainfall in Wisconsin this month means a rank second growth of many troublesome weeds, such as shepherd's purse, fox tail, witch grass and wild mustard.

Fall plowing, already under way, tends to bring the weed seeds to the surface where they will sprout and mature quickly because of highly favorable conditions.

"The land should be disked or harrowed thoroughly after the fall plowing is done in order to make a sure job of killing the second growth weeds," says Henry Lunz, College of Agriculture.

If left to grow these weeds will quite likely go to seed before winter sets in, or in any case they will interfere with harrowing in the spring. Mr. Lunz advises that there are numerous hardy winter animals that will live throughout the winter if not destroyed at once. The cutting of such weeds now will tend to prevent their extensive spread in years to come.

The rate and economy of gains made by silage-fed steers justify the more general adoption of this feed for beef production, especially where pasturage is limited or uncertain. The same is true to a certain extent with sheep. Moderate feeding is the rule, and more careful regard to the quality of the silage. Horses not required for heavy work in winter may have their rations supplemented with silage, but it should be used sparingly for this purpose.

"It hardly pays to cut alfalfa after the middle of September in states where hard frosts may do much damage to unprotected root crowns." This is one of the main recommendations now being made by the officials of Wisconsin's alfalfa growers' association.

Heavy rains have helped to force the alfalfa fields to an unusual degree this fall, and many may be tempted to cut another crop. Those certain, according to experienced growers, who let it stand, however, will be able to have better stands next year.

LORD-RICE

In the presence of relatives and friends last Saturday at twelve-thirty o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rice of Pelican Lake, Rev. Fr. Toplack of Eagle River, united in marriage Mr. Percy T. Lord, of this village, and Miss Mary Viola Rice. Miss Lucy Rice, and Robert Rice, sister and brother of the bride acted as bridesmaid and best man. Following the marriage ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride and the event celebrated with a dance by relatives and friends of the happy couple. Late in the evening the young couple took the train for Chicago, on their way to their new home in Boone, Iowa, where they immediately went to housekeeping. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lord of this village and is very popular with those who know him. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rice of Pelican Lake, and she, too, is no stranger to our people, having taught in our graded school two terms. The citizens joins their many friends in extending congratulations.—Northern Citizen.

BIG MOOSE STILL AT LARGE

The Ironwood Times states that C. A. Comiskey's big moose which escaped from his park near Mercer last week is still at large. The moose was tracked by a party for several days during which he steadily traveled in a northeasterly direction, crossing the Northwestern track about two miles east of Wakefield and the South Shore track a short distance east of Tula, where the trailers abandoned the chase. Comiskey has asked State Game Warden Oates to have his deputies keep on the lookout for the animal and they are doing so, but just what they would do with him if they found him is something of a problem. The other animals who escaped from the park at the time the moose got loose have been recaptured.

TOWLE IN THE TOILS

Ira Towle, a former horse dealer of Antigo, was brought to Crandon by officer Smith Thursday. Towle was arrested in Michigan on complaint of James Blackmer of Rhineland, who charges Towle with obtaining money under false pretenses. Blackmer, who resided in Crandon, when the alleged offense was committed, sold Towle eight horses and failed to receive his pay. Towle's examination is set for Oct. 12, and he is now out on bail.—Crandon Republican.

THE NEW NORTH.

The New North Printing Co.
OCTOBER 7, 1915

Entered at the Postoffice at Rhinelander, Wis., as Second Class Mail Matter

Snow today—the first real touch of winter.

Getting near time to think about doing that Christmas shopping.

Times are said to be picking up. Well, they never have been poor in Rhinelander.

Carl Krueger, the newly elected president of the city school board, has had large experience as a school board member, once served as chairman of the teachers' committee and knows the work of the school board as well as any man that could be chosen. He is fair and just and will treat all alike.

STOLE FROM THE VERY FIRST

It has been the wonderment of many tax payers whether A. D. Sutton, the embezzling ex-treasurer, began taking city money within the past few years or whether his game of theft began with the origin of the city in 1891. We are credibly informed that Sutton appropriated city money for his own personal benefit within a year after Rhinelander became a city and has been skilled at this game ever since. In fact, we are informed about eighteen hundred dollars were stolen within four years after the organization of the city. Neither did this criminal confine his embezzlements to city funds, but he even embezzled school money from the treasury. It hardly seems possible to realize that this man has stolen as high as a thousand dollars at a time from the school funds and it was he as a board member, who was always crying economy in hiring competent teachers that Sutton could plunder the schools. The Sutton record is little to be emulated by any good citizen. He was not satisfied to get thousands of personal plunder but he helped heavy tax payers rob the masses too by letting them pay their taxes at a late date, with no penalty, when the law demanded that they pay two per cent for delinquency. Their receipts were dated back and nothing was paid. This alone made hundreds of dollars loss to the city yearly. More, we understand millions of gallons of city water has been used as plunder under Sutton's administration as water works superintendent. A dishonest man is generally ready to divide the spoils.

COMMENTS ON THE WAR

Henry Ford has "heard from" the Allies on account of his recent brash statement about "tying a tin can" to the loan representatives of the Allies and sending them home. Also on account of his threat to take all of his money and all of the Ford Motor Company's money out of my bank that dared to participate in the Allied loan. The Canadians are going to boycott the Ford if he doesn't change his attitude. Probably Henry can eke out a sort of a miserable existence without the aid of Canada's business. The little Ford will probably ramble right along the same as usual, although it may strike rough roads in Canada.—Ashland Press.

The fighting in the war zone has been pretty much in favor of the Germans for sometime, so that the sudden infusion of life into the Allies on the western frontier was somewhat of a surprise. This only goes to prove more conclusively that the war can go on indefinitely if the resources of one side or the other must be exhausted before the end can be brought about. Germany had made exceptional progress and for a time it appeared as though that country were going to control the situation. But the change in affairs brings the matter back to where it was originally, except for the loss of many lives and much property, of homes wrecked and lives made miserable for the rest of their days on earth. When will it end?—Antigo Journal.

The probabilities are that this nation is entering on an era of great material prosperity. Naturally the great European war is putting considerable business into our hands, the warring nations look to us for supplies and financial aid, and the great harvests of grain and other produce must to a large extent go to feed and clothe the millions of the old world. History shows that prosperity too often leads to extravagance with the result that when the era of prosperity comes to an end, as it invariably does, there are thousands of families that have to face poverty and humiliation because they were not wise enough to live within their means and save something for the proverbial rainy day.—Hurley Miner.

Not many stories of personal heroism are coming from the European war. Occasionally we read of a Peugeot, or an "unknown private" or what the man-with-both-legs-shot-off, who is recuperating in the hospital did. Even the officers are more or less overwhelmed by the tremendousness of the conflict though the names of Joffre, Kitchener, French, Von Hindenburg, Von Tirpitz and Grand Duke Nicholas drift through occasionally in praise or condemnation. As a matter of fact the heroism is of the quiet kind. Fighting, to the men in the trenches is a duty to be done, and they are going about that duty with the quiet heroism of the superhero, not thinking, evidently, nor caring what the world might think of their particular work.—Washington Times.

It seems now that the English and French war loan has been practically agreed upon. The amount being fixed at one-half billion. The syndicate has been formed to underwrite the loan and the profit of the syndicate will be one and three-fourths per cent. One-fourth of one per cent is set aside to take care of the expense. This whole loan business simply shows the control of Wall street over the financial conditions of this country. Whatever is decided upon there, fixes financial matters even to a transaction of the magnitude of this gigantic loan.—Merrill Herald.

JUDGE SCORES EMBEZZLER

Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 28.—Declaring the crime to which Perry G. Wright, 63 years old, former secretary of the Union Building, Loan and Savings association and the National Fraternal league, pleaded guilty in Municipal court this morning to be the worst of his kind that had ever come to his notice, Judge Carlton sentenced the once influential citizen to a term of ten years in state's prison at Waupun.

The charge against Wright was that he embezzled $20,000 from the savings association.

For ten years Wright looted systematically funds of the two organizations while in charge of affairs. His defalcations reached a total of $11,000, according to audit.—Chicago Tribune, Sept. 29.

HURT IN RUNAWAY

While a new team of horses were being tried out in the paper mill yards Monday, the animals became frightened and run away, throwing the driver, John Peterson, from the wagon and breaking his arm. Mr. Peterson is employed by the Rhinelander Paper company in the yards. His injury will prevent him from working for a number of weeks.

Henry Wubker, who is in the city today, states that he has sold his business interests at McNaughton. He has made no plans for the future but during the winter will remain at the home of his father, Henry Wubker Sr.

IN THE SAILOR SHAPE

ONE OF THE NEWEST FLAT-BRIMMED HATS.

Parisian Designers Predict Much Popularity for This Model—Organdie Muslin Being Used in a Most Lavish Fashion.

The drawing shows a flat-brimmed hat of sailor order made of crepe Francals in a rich shade of Belgian blue. This charming model was effectively trimmed with little clusters of small lemon and orange blossoms. These flat-brimmed sailor shapes are more fashionable than ever.

They are rather larger than the sailor hats of last year—wider in the brim—and they are trimmed with small clusters of flowers or not trimmed at all, two ornate pins being considered sufficient to give a finished appearance to the hat.

This hat-pin trimming becomes more and more popular. The Parisiennes are wonderfully clever at inventing new and decorative hat-pin heads and when an uncommon shape has been selected these large pins give the very best results. The Paris dressmakers are enthusiastic over the charms of organdie muslin, plain or printed. They are using this delicate material in large quantities and are manipulating it into really exquisite frocks which have the necessary old-world favor.

These frocks are flounced and tucked in a lavish manner and always invariably they are accompanied by loose sashes composed of velvet or wide satin ribbons and finished off with nosegays of small flowers at the waistband. The very latest idea is organdie muslin in a subtle shade of flesh pink.

This muslin looks beautiful when trimmed with oyster-white shadow lace or when combined with printed muslin which has sprigs of bright flowers on an ivory ground. Many of the best summer blouses are made of fine organdie muslin and some of these are mounted over decollete slip bodices made of pastel-tinted pongee.

It is going to be a most artistic season from every point of view. The new linen dresses are embroidered a

A New Reboux Model in White Satin With Clusters of Black Grapes and a Black Velvet Louis XV Bow.

L'Anglaise, in colored washing silks, cherry-red on white, or heliotrope on the same background. A new and effective idea is the under slip of bright colored silk, matching the embroidery silks, which is worn with these costumes.

1,732 DEATHS IN STATE IN AUGUST

Wisconsin state board of health on Monday announced that in August there were 1,732 deaths, exclusive of still births, reported. "This," the board said, "represents an annual death rate of 7.3 per 1,000 estimated population of the state. The rate is exceedingly low.

The northern counties reported 302 deaths with a rate of 6.7 per 1,000 of population, the central counties reported 371 deaths with a rate of 9.2 per 1,000 and the southern counties 859 with a rate of 8.8 per 1,000.

"The deaths of 257 children under one year of age were reported for August. There were 70 deaths among children from one to 4 years of age and 611 deaths of persons 65 years of age and over.

"Important causes of death and the number of deaths in each disease are as follows:

Pulmonary tuberculosis, 117; other tuberculosis, 13; typhoid fever, 3; diphtheria, 7; scarlet fever, 3; measles, 3; whooping cough, 15; pneumonia, 77; diarrhoea (under two years of age) 33; meningitis, 21; influenza, 2; puerperal septicemia, 4; cancer, 138; violence 150.

"More deaths were reported from cancer than any other disease. The deaths from violence show that eight resulted from automobile accidents, four from gun shot wounds, seven from railroad accidents, thirty-six from accidental drowning, eight from horse vehicles and horses and six from accidental burns and scalds. One death was reported from infantile paralysis, one from smallpox and one from pellagra."

GOOD CONCERT

It is to be regretted that a larger audience did not hear the concert given by the Royal Gwent Welsh Singers at the Opera House Saturday night. They comprised one of the strongest choruses ever heard in Rhinelander and their program was enough diversified to please all classes. These singers, who are direct from Wales, have won high honors for singing in many European competitions. Should they ever return to this city they will undoubtedly be greeted by a large attendance. They appeared here under the auspices of the M. W. A. lodge.

SETTLE BIG SUIT

The suit of the Rhinelander Power Company vs. Rhinelander Paper Company for $15,000 which was to have been heard in this October term of court has been settled out of court, the consideration being $750.00. It will be remembered at the time this case first came up there was much discussion pro and con. The settlement as above will surprise those who had fixed opinions.

KILLS DEER; FINED

For killing a deer out of season Joseph Burke, who lives near Three Lakes, was arrested by Conservation Wardens Berg of this city, and Oberholzer of Eagle River. In Judge Smith's court Wednesday Burke pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25 and costs.

The conservation wardens are busy scouring the woods for violators of the game laws and are playing no favorites when it comes to making arrests.

WOMAN'S CLUB BEGINS SEASON

The Woman's Club held its first meeting Tuesday with a good attendance.

Puccini's opera, La Boheme, was the topic. Mrs. S. H. Ashton read a paper concerning the opera. Vocal solos were rendered by Mesdames Williams and Richards and two Victor records were played.

Mrs. Paska gave two very fine readings, much enjoyed by those present.

Four new members were admitted to the club.

Light refreshments were served.

MUNICIPAL COURT

For cruelty to animals Arthur Dupont was fined one dollar and costs in Judge Smith's court Tuesday. The complaint was made by J. Kelley.

The case against John Revooy, charged with assault and battery was dismissed Saturday for lack of evidence. Revooy was arrested on complaint of Richard Doyle.

On complaint of Henry Wubker Jr., W. W. Thayer of McNaughton was arraigned in municipal court Friday on charges of assault and battery and assault with intent to do great bodily harm. He pleaded not guilty and the case was set for trial, Friday, October 8. Mr. Thayer's bonds were fixed at $500 and he was allowed to go on his own cognizance.

Mrs. Mildred Shepard left last night for Beloit. She will spend several weeks among friends and may go east before returning.

Mrs. I. E. Schiek left Monday night for LaCrosse to represent as delegate the Rhinelander Woman's Club at the State Federation.

in perfect condition

But more important—these flakes are made by a new process that gives them a new form and a distinctive flavour, entirely different from other corn flakes.

In this new process, intense heat expands the interior moisture, producing little pearl-like "puffs," a distinguished characteristic of the New Post Toasties.

These flakes have a body and firmness that don't mush down, even when cream or milk is added. Toasties come factory-fresh, as crisp and delicious as when they leave the big ovens.

EVENTS OF WEEK IN NEARBY TOWNS

Ladysmith.
There is on foot a movement to organize a militia company in this city. Robt. K. Lee, principal instigator of the movement, received a letter Monday from Adjutant General Tolman, of the Wisconsin National Guard, giving the information that there are no vacancies in the infantry and no immediate prospects of being any but that the local young men would be entirely within their rights in organizing an independent company. If a sufficient number are registered steps will be made later in providing proper equipment.

Tomahawk.
The attendance at the public school shows another decrease this year over that of last year and the year before. The enrollment of 1913 was 726, that of 1914, 691; and the total enrollment of this year is 676. A decrease of fifty students in the last two years. The high school enrollment of 1913 was 119, of 1914, 116 and of this year 117. The total enrollment of the grades is 474 and of the kindergarten 85. This year's enrollment of the high school includes 21 tuition pupils and 9 in the grades.

Iron River.
The state manager of the H. J. Heinz Company was in town on Thursday and Friday of last week inspecting the vats of cucumbers salted at the local station. He stated that the cucumber crop throughout the state was hard hit by weather conditions this year and that the farther north one goes the worse those conditions were. The pack here and at Washburn will be less than one-tenth of what was expected, or which might reasonably be expected in a normal year.

Ironwood.
The Roach & Seiber company, wholesale grocers, of Waterloo, Wis., who operates branches in Marquette, Houghton and Ironwood, on Monday announced that ground had been broken for a big addition to the plant in this city, this having been made necessary by the rapidly growing business of the company here. The new structure will be 100 feet long and 40 feet wide, will be of concrete construction and will be two stories high with a basement. It will be equipped with an automatic fire sprinkler system and other modern improvements. This addition will make the Ironwood plant one of the largest of the company's upper peninsula properties.

Hayward.
Ray Stannard Baker, contributor to many well known magazines and part owner of the American magazine, is here on an outing, accompanied by his brothers H. W. Baker of St. Croix Falls and Hugh Baker of Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Baker declared that it wasn't so much that they cared to make any big catches or bag big game that they undertook this outing, but the three brothers manage to get together once each year to get re-acquainted and they like no environment better than the wildest part of Sawyer county.

Merrill.
Fred Abraham, a farmer of the town of Texas, Marathon County, 11 miles south of here, was blown to pieces Thursday, by a stick of dynamite, and his home badly demolished. Abraham, who was a widower, lived on a farm with a son, twenty-two years of age, and had long been brooding over imaginary troubles and a recent attack of illness. No one was present at the time of the tragedy, but it is believed that he lay down upon the dynamite and deliberately ignited the fuse. The explosion was heard for over a mile and when neighbors rushed to the scene, they found the body.

A RHINELANDER MAN GIVES EVIDENCE

His Testimony Will Interest Every Rhinelander Reader
The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can prove it for ourselves. There has been plenty of such evidence in the Rhinelander papers lately, and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of Rhinelander people that will not be easily shaken.

Oliver Shorey, stationary engineer, 726 Margaret St., Rhinelander, says: "I was bothered a great deal by lame back and pains across my joints. I had been in this shape for some time, but I was troubled mostly while at work. My back was so stiff and lame that it hurt me to stoop or lift and I was also annoyed by kidney weakness. Finally someone advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did. They cured me and I have never had any sign of kidney trouble since."

SCHOOL LUNCHESES

Mr. F. A. Lowell,
Supt. of Schools,
Oneida County,
Rhinelander, Wis.

Dear Mr. Lowell:

Many schools in Wisconsin are trying out the plan of serving warm lunches or milk lunches to the school children. Inquiries are coming to us from many sources asking as to the results in the schools where this plan is being tried. It is practical for the rural school, as well as the school in the town or city.

In order to further this movement will you assist us by giving me all the information you can, as to what is being done in your county along this line? In a forthcoming issue of the Crusader, we desire to publish an article or articles on this subject. Please give me full details as to the cost of these lunches.

Thanking you in advance for such information you will be able to give me, I am

Very truly yours,

TO STOP NEEDLESS WHISTLE BLOWING

The Northwestern road and the Soo line operate under the same whistle code, and so does the St. Paul line with one small exception. Recently the Soo line has been calling the attention of its locomotive men to the necessity of keeping rigidly on the code, and the company has emphasized that promiscuous whistle blowing is to be stopped on Soo line engines. Most anyone can detect the movement of a train by the whistle of the locomotive. Here is the code followed by both the Soo and the Northwestern:

Highway crossing signal—Two long blasts, two short blasts.

Station signal—One long blast.

Apply brakes—One short quick blast.

Answer to signal—Two short blasts.

Call for switch or signal—Four short blasts.

Call for help—Six long blasts.

Backing up—Three short blasts.

Attention to section signals—One long and two short blasts.

Release brakes—Two long blasts.

Send out flagman—One long blast, followed by three short blasts.

Call in flagman from east—Five short blasts.

Call in flagman from west—Four short blasts.

On the St. Paul line the highway signal is one long and two short blasts, while on the Soo and Northwestern the highway signal, as stated, is two long followed by two short blasts.

There is only one bell cord signal which is ever used by the general public and then only in unusual emergency cases, and that is the "stop at once" which is two pulls of the cord of equal length.

WHEN YOU TAKE COLD

With the average man a cold is a serious matter and should not be trifled with, as some of the most dangerous diseases start with a cold. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of your cold as quickly as possible. You are not experimenting when you use this remedy, as it has been in use for many years and has an established reputation. It contains no opium or other narcotic. Obtainable everywhere.
